GLOUCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS
CEMETERY GRAVESTONE INSCRIPTIONS

VOLUME I

FIRST PARISH BURIAL GROUND, 122 CENTENNIAL AVE.
Earlier called the Bridge Street Burial Ground.

In 1895 the City assigned the task of copying the inscriptions from gravestones in its old burial grounds to William Henry Dolliver.

This book contains photocopies of Dolliver's work in the First Parish Burial Ground at 122 Centennial Ave.

An INDEX OF NAMES is located at the front of inscription photocopies.

Please note that the page #s are not always consecutive as cemeteries were often inserted at random in the original volumes.

Photocopies of other cemetery gravestone inscriptions are included in:

Volume II BAY VIEW CEMETERY, 903-915 Washington St.
Earlier called Annisquam Yard near Bradstreet School House.
LANESVILLE CEMETERY, R1052 Washington St.
Earlier called Annisquam Yard near Harvey's Stables.
UNITARIAN CHURCH CEMETERY, 16-22 Prospect St.
Earlier called Burial Yard on Back St.
UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, Church St.
Landlocked, right of way in rear of Col. Pearce House.
WEST GLOUCESTER, Old Thompson St. (Deep in woods.)
Earlier called Thompson Yard or Second Parish yard.

Volume III FOLLY COVE, intersection of Washington St. & Langsford St.
Now Rockport's Locust Grove Cemetery adjoining Gloucester's Seaside Cemetery.
ROCKPORT CEMETERY, Beach St.
Earlier called Sandy Bay Grave Yard.

Exactly 100 years later, E. M. Sparling, Cemetery Records Clerk and Archives Committee member, is repeating Wm. H. Dolliver's method of recording gravestone inscriptions at three currently-active cemeteries in the City of Gloucester. This process is necessary because only records of who purchased cemetery lots have been kept in recent times. There are no records of individual burials.

1ST PARISH GRAVESTONE INSCRIPTIONS
1711 - 1892

Old Yard Bridge Street

Gentlemen, of the Hon^ble
body, of Comm. on Burrial Grounds, 1895.

Sirs,

I having by your instructions, copies the Inscriptions on grave stones, at the Old Church yard, at Bridge street, beg leave, to make the following report.

I found the stones for the most part, covered with moss, and worn with the storms, of most 200 years, and in order to get at the, I was forced to clean, or partially clean, the surface of them, which took considerable time. I also marked them, with _____figures, corresponding to figures, in this book. A good many stones are broken, and with a little expense, could be mended, and last some time. during my labor in the yard, it was visited, by a good many people, from out of Town who were seeking information, in regard to their Gloucester Ancestry, and they were very much pleased to think the old marks, of the Gloucester Colonists, were to be preserved.

I find a number of Rev War Soldiers, and privateers men, who by reference to Mr Babsons History, for names, could be easily located, by refering to numbers, in this book. I have tried to copy, as they read on stone, word for word. I most respectfully recommend, at an early date, the stones be thoroughly cleaned, which I think could be done, and the Old Yard would pass inspection, nearly as ever, as some of more recent date.

Old yard Bridge street

Trusting my labor will meet your approval

I am Sirs
Very Respety
Your Servant
W.H. Dolliver

I found 602 stones
which were inscribed I also find that throughout the whole yard are graves marked by (as I should judge) rough small stones at head and foot these are without any ark of any kind to designate who lies in the graves. I also find that there are some stones over graves who were of the Catholic Church and also Protestants who have been put in the yard and from appearances are buried directly over the graves of some of the old settlers.

WHD

The stones are marked No 1 commencing at Eastern entrance the number on stone will correspond to number in margin of this book. I have designated as far as possible the direction of each number and by following the numbers and direction the seeker can easily find the person or persons they may be seeking for.

Old Yard Bridge street.

Gentlemen, of the Hon^ble
body, of Com, on Burial Grounds, 1895:

Sirs,

Having by your instructions, copied the Inscriptions on grave stones, at the Old Church yard, at Bridge street. beg leave, to make the following report.

I find the stones, for the most part, covered with moss, and worn with the storms, of most 200 years, and in order to get at them, I was forced to clean, or partially clean, the surface of them, which took considerable time. I also marked them, with painted figures, corresponding to figures, in this book. As your many stones are broken, and with a little expence, could be mended, and last some time. during my labor in the yard, it was visited, by a good many people, from out of town. who were seeking information, in regard to their Gloucester ancestry, and they were very much pleased, to think the old marks, of the Gloucester Colonists, were to be preserved.

I find a number, of Rev Soldiers, and Privateers men., who by reference to Mr Babsons History, for names, could be easily located, by referring to numbers, in this book. I have tried to copy, as they read on stone, word, for word. I most respectfully recommend, that at an early date, the stones be thoroughly cleaned, which I think could be done, and the Old Yard would pay inspection, nearly as well, as some, of more recent date.

Old yard Bridge street.

Trusting my labor will meet your approval.

I am Sirs

Very Respectfully
Your Servant
Wm H. Dollins

I found 602. stones which were in the yard I also find that throughout the whole yard are graves marked by (as I should judge) rough small stones at head and foot these are without any mark of any kind to designate who lies in the graves. I also find that there are some stones over graves. who were of the Catholic Church. and also Protestants who have been put in this yard. and from appearances are buried directly over the graves of some of the old settlers.

W H D

The stones are marked. No 1 commencing at Eastern entrance. the number on stone will correspond to number in margin of this book. I have designated as far as possible the directions of each number. and by following the numbers and direction. the seeker can easily find the person or persons they may be seeking for.
